VOLUNTEER AT SLUSH 2019

Tamas Faitli was a part of the Social Media team at Slush during the fall of 2019. They were responsible for:

- Producing Twitter content for @SlushHQ during the event
- Top-notch customer service which was praised internationally
- Additional tasks related to making the event a success

We were all impressed by Tamas Faitli's attitude and effort towards their responsibilities at Slush. No matter the pressure, Tamas Faitli was there to take on the tasks with strong ownership, careful planning and extraordinary results. No wonder our attendees gave our volunteers a whopping 9,42/10 evaluation. Collaborating with Tamas Faitli has been a pleasure and our team is happy to recommend them to take on additional responsibilities.

Slush is a student-driven, not-for-profit movement with the mission to create and help the next generation of groundbreaking entrepreneurs. Our event, which started out as a local gathering of Nordic entrepreneurs, has grown in just a few short years to 25,000 attendees.

In 2019, 25,000 attendees, including 3,500 startups, 2,000 investors, and 600 journalists, from over 100 countries joined us to talk business and experience the otherworldly atmosphere. The event would simply not happen without our 2,400 enthusiastic volunteers.
